Introduction to Personal Mastery

Personal mastery is the reason why Oprah Winfrey commands millions of followership all over the world.

Personal mastery is the reason why Steve Jobs is the most outstanding famous entrepreneur in the world

“To be a model, commit yourself to your own personal mastery.” — Peter Senge

It's not who you are underneath but what you do that defines you

“There is nothing noble in being superior to your fellow man; true nobility is being superior to your former self” — Ernest Hemingway

Personal Mastery – A journey towards continuous improvement

- An essential ingredient for super-happiness in life is discovering personal mastery. Personal mastery is something that we all want to achieve, whether we know it or not. It is about our journey towards continuous improvement and seeing life from a different perspective.
- Personal mastery is about understanding exactly how you think, why you do things the way you do, having clarity around your purpose and direction in life and taking steps towards continual learning and development to evolve and enhance oneself. It is not something that is achieved overnight, but rather something that each and every one of us strive towards in our journey of life, fostering a more satisfying, successful, happier and fulfilling life.
- To summarize it, personal mastery guides you to develop being aware with your beliefs, attitudes and behavior impacts. It also enables you to accept yourself and be responsible with your own action, attitude, and thought.

Developing Growth Mindset

"Growth mindset is based on the belief that your basic qualities are things you can cultivate through your efforts. Although people may differ in every which way in their initial talents and aptitudes, interests, or temperaments, everyone can change and grow through application and experience. This is important because it can actually change what you strive for and what you see as success" – Carol Dweck

A “growth mindset,” as Dweck calls it, is pretty much exactly what it sounds like: a tendency to believe that you can grow. She explains that while a “fixed mindset” assumes that our character, intelligence, and creative ability are static givens which we can’t change in any meaningful way, a growth mindset thrives on challenge and sees failure “not as evidence of unintelligence but as a heartening springboard for growth and for stretching our existing abilities.”
